Doing Sensory Ethnography Sarah Pink

This bold agenda-setting title continues to spearhead interdisciplinary, multisensory research into experience, knowledge and practice.

Drawing on an explosion of new, cutting edge research Sarah Pink uses real world examples to bring this innovative area of study to life. She encourages us to challenge, revise and rethink core components of ethnography including interviews, participant observation and doing research in a digital world. The book provides an important framework for thinking about sensory ethnography stressing the numerous ways that smell, taste, touch and vision can be interconnected and interrelated within research. Bursting with practical advice on how to effectively conduct and share sensory ethnography this is an important, original book, relevant to all branches of social sciences and humanities.

Elizabeth Smith:

As a pupil exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's spirit or real their interest. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to go to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring along with can't see colorful photos on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we really wish for. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Doing Sensory Ethnography can make you really feel more interested to read.
